5:30-6:00: Open Bar
6:00-6:30 PM: Networking
6:30-8:00 PM: Lecture
4935 Bar & Kitchen
4935 Cordell Ave., Bethesda, MD

This lecture is structured so that dentists will gain an appreciation for the postural influences of our occlusion, inherent asymmetry of the body, and faulty breathing patterns.

Speaker Bio and Course Objectives listed on the following page.

All lectures and events brought to you by our Gold Sponsors:
John Hasenberg of The Hasenberg Hartsock Group, HIOSSEN, and Sandy Spring Bank
Learning Objective(s):
- Recognize structural influences, breathing patterns of faulty postures, and the impact of the nervous system on our postural stability. Exploring how a dentist can work with a physical therapist when treating a patient who has cranio-facial pain, TMD, and delivering an oral appliance to assist in maintaining neutrality in the spine as well as neurologic homeostasis.

Bio: Dr. Manny Kim, DPT, PRC is an integrative physical therapist licensed in the state of Maryland. A Chicago native, Manny received his Doctorate of Physical Therapy from Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine. Dr. Kim is a member of the APTA http://www.apta.org/ and certified in Postural Restoration through the Postural Restoration Institute http://www.posturalrestoration.com/.

Dr. Kim approaches every patient using a multi-system paradigm to treat the human body as a ‘whole’ and not just a part. His goal is to identify underlying influences and ‘drivers’ to postural patterns and musculoskeletal imbalances that often cause pain, dysfunction, and faulty movement patterns. Corrective strategies and interventions can then be provided once the problem is understood.

Dr. Kim is fluent a gentle and restorative manual technique called Fascial Counter-strain (FCS) which has its roots in Osteopathic Manual Medicine. FCS is different from direct hands-on treatment (e.g. massage, manipulation) in that it uses cranial motion testing to predict which fascial system is dysfunctional as well as the location in the body. Gentle forces and/or comfortable positions are used to ‘reset’ deep fascial sensors to correct dysfunction, spasm, and pain in virtually every major system of the body.

Dr. Kim has a special interest in airway management for sleep and performance, occlusion as it relates to posture, and is a strong proponent of interdisciplinary collaboration to provide the best outcomes for his patients.

Dr. Kim has his own physical therapy practice in Rockville, MD www.unlockmybody.com. Dr. Kim is experienced in treating a wide variety of patients including chronic, acute, and complex pain patterns. His desire is for all his patients to achieve their full health and movement potential.

Dear Frater,

Each year, the members and friends of the Alpha Omega International Dental Fraternity have been most supportive of the Alpha Omega Foundation’s mission by joining the yearly “FOUNDATION CLUB”. As a past ‘member’ of our club, you are aware of the prizes to acknowledge your generosity. The $180.00 per person contribution represents a great source of income for our philanthropic causes. An additional “chai” gift (CHAI CLUB) of $18 supports student dental missions abroad.

Membership in the Foundation Club and the Chai Club makes one eligible to receive one of several valuable prizes (art and crafts work, jewelry, Judaica items, collectibles, etc.) in a special drawing held at Alpha Omega’s annual convention in December. YOU NEED NOT BE PRESENT TO BE ELIGIBLE. Below is a display of the 2016 prizes contributed by artists, AO fraters and AO supporters.

We thank you for your past support and once again turn to you to help our Foundation by joining the ‘Clubs’.

Please complete the attached form and return it (either with check or with credit card information) to the Alpha Omega Foundation.

With gratitude,

Andy Lasky,
Foundation Club Chair

Special Anniversary Issue
When a fire destroyed a Miami teenager Cassandra Charley’s home two years ago, the teens’ high-school friend of the world ever ended. She didn’t have health insurance and the cost of reconstructive surgery was high.

Charley, N.J.’s CIHA chapter of the Alpha Omega (AO) International Dental Fraternity, whose mission is to change lives, stepped in to help. The 120-member fraternity raised more than $8,000 in 30 days for her reconstruction through its 7th Annual Oral Cancer Awareness 5K Run and Walk at the Rhode Island in 2016. More than 200 people participated in the event.

“Cassandra was in need,” said Allen, a fourth-year CIHA student and a president of the fraternity during 2016.

AO’s efforts offered Charley a second chance at a normal life after an amputation, an aggressive tumor, two mastectomies, and major surgery to remove a large tumor and remove a growing plate to promote the growth of new bone. “It was really, really scary,” said Charley, a junior at Maine Minotaur School. “I didn’t have insurance so scary it was. But I was always positive.”
Today, Charles is on the road to a fully restored appearance and avoiding the insertion of implants. CDM personnel was work with AO wasn’t surprised at the organization’s accomplishments.

"The care was paid for by the foundation,” said Steven I. Kottman, D.D.S., who donated his time to perform Charles’ cancer surgery and jaw reconstruction. “Teething Cassandra is something that has been very rewarding for us," added Kottman, chief of oral and maxillofacial surgery and associate dental hospice affairs at the CDM.

The fund-raising effort was the first time the CDM’s AO chapter organized proceeds from its annual run and walk-a-thon for patient care. In the three previous years, all event proceeds were used to support dental research and to purchase new equipment for the college.

A large portion of the money came from a single donor, whose name was not identified. Donna All of Atlanta, Georgia, learned of AO’s mission to help Charles through her daughter, Anna, a third-year CDM student who urged her to help. All’s son was uninsured when he died at age 19, and she didn’t want someone else’s child to suffer similarly. She and her husband, Ron, contributed $3,000 in hopes of making a difference.

"We’re called the ‘ miracles. How can you do something?’” recalled Semina A.L. Leachley, a former CDM student who was recently named to Congress. "It’s not an easy thing to do, but maybe a little bit of a contribution can save someone's life.

Amur All, who doesn't live in AO, was touched by Charles’ plight. "Imagine a young kid losing all his teeth and having full face reconstruction," said Amur All, who wants to specialize in oral and maxillofacial surgery. "Kids get bullied. I thought because my mom a very contributor to the camp in Georgia for kids with cancer that this might be something she could come to.

At the 2018 run at C.B. Smith Park in Pembroke Pines, Florida, 150 people participated and 20 volunteers assisted, the chapter’s fifth, raised $16,000 that is being donated to Dr. Cassandra, who was diagnosed with squamous cell carcinoma. In addition, CDM students and faculty members provided oral care during the event.

Community involvement is a core value of ALC, and the AO chapter emphasizes this. "It’s a great feeling to be able to help someone," said Lloyd Price, AO vice president and a third-year dental student who graduated in May 2018. "Charles came to our walk last year, and she was really great time.

"Every one we raised - from tickets to registration for past events and donations by the community, we gave to her family," said Semina Leachley, the new AO president and a third-year dental student who graduates in May 2019.

The CDM’s AO chapter is a tight-knit group of dedicated dental students, instructors, and professional staff who promote research, activism, and awareness through an array of community-based activities.
It's the oldest international Jewish dental organization, originally founded in 1987 by dental students at the University of Maryland to fight discrimination. Today, the organization is composed of more than 100 chapters and student chapters in 10 countries, with members hailing from an array of cultural backgrounds. It is open to members of all religions and ethnocives.

In the spring of 2016, the CDF's chapter had 60 members who graduated, making it one of the organization's largest graduating classes in the United States.

Broad and Diverse Appeal

Evan and Chasen joined Alpha Omega in 2011 because they were impressed with the organization's academic leadership and direct involvement in community affairs. "AO speaks to me as a being academic and community-based, which is something I am very passionate about," Chasen said. "Being Jewish, I was proud of the values and principles the organization promotes."

Chasen's involvement increased with AO's history of community involvement and its values. "Although I am not Jewish, AO's values and ideologies deeply resonate with me," Chasen said. "AO has given me many opportunities for growth and development. I feel like I am part of something bigger." Chasen said AO offered fantastic networking opportunities for members to engage with other students and faculty members. "There is a conference every year, and it's open to the public. You see dentists of all ages who have been a part of it and what they have accomplished."

Seidenfeld learned AO is a great resource for up-and-coming dentists. "It's a great organization, a wide-reaching organization," he said. "It is a resource for learning where the members come from, they have principles, it's a resource to make a dentist a better dentist, a better practitioner, and a better community provider."

Second-year dental student Ilan Gordon joined AO for the same reasons. "I felt like a lot of people in dental school who want to make a difference," said Gordon, who will graduate in 2018. In addition, Gordon said AO offers fantastic networking opportunities for students, chances to mingle with staff and faculty members. "There is a conference every year, and we try to go. You see dentists of all ages who have been a part of it and what they have accomplished."

Seidenfeld learned AO is a great resource for up-and-coming dentists. "It's a great organization, a wide-reaching organization," he said. "It is a resource for learning where the members come from, they have principles, it's a resource to make a dentist a better dentist, a better practitioner, and a better community provider."

Second-year dental student Ilan Gordon joined AO because he wanted to engage in the profession. "It is a bigger way, working outside the classroom, something hands on," said Seidenfeld, who worked on the 2016 and 2017 runs, "It helped on the organizational side," said Seidenfeld, who will graduate in 2018. "I got a lot out of it. This organization has been a big influence. It was so easy to get involved."

Seidenfeld, who is interested in general dentistry, said the networking opportunities AO offers are incredible. "Some of the faculty members were in this organization when they went to dental school," he explained. "When we saw common ground like the same integrity, we are really able to engage with them on a deeper level outside of the traditional student-faculty relationship."
Dear Foundation Board Members and PIPs,

The Alpha Omega Foundation wishes all Alpha Omegans and supporters a very Happy New Year. The High Holidays are a time for personal introspection to contemplate our choices, right or wrong over the past year and how we can take responsibility to improve our shortcomings to help us be a better person. In the spirit of the Holidays and Alpha Omega’s belief in the Judaic values of tzedakah, tikkun olam, and mitzvot, giving to help others is one way to accomplish this goal.

This year the Foundation has provided support in the amount of $128,014 in grants to:

Tel Aviv University School of Dental Medicine annual grant and additional funds for a sterilization room and equipment

Hebrew University-Hadassah School of Dental Medicine annual grant

University of Alabama School of Dental Medicine research grant

Ben Massell Dental Clinic in Atlanta care grant

Kids Smiles of Philadelphia education grant

Harvard Tree of Peace student grant for externship in Israel at Hebrew University-Hadassah School of Dental Medicine

Alpha Omega/Henry Schein Cares Holocaust Survivor Oral Healthcare Program

Jewish Social Services Agency Holocaust Survivor Program Dental Fund (DC cohort of Holocaust Survivor Program)

Fund Mobile Dental Unit for Syrian Refugees Special Limited Campaign through Natan

We need your continued support to further the Foundation’s mission to improve the human condition through dental health, education, research and access to care.

Let us fulfill the mitzvah to continue disbursing grants with a gift of tzedakah to the Alpha Omega Foundation.

L’shanah tovah to you and your families!

AO has been recognized as a 2017 Power of A Silver Award winner for the Alpha Omega-Henry Schein Cares Holocaust Survivors Oral Health Program. Given by the American Society of Association Executives (ASAE), The Power of A Awards recognize a select number of organizations annually that distinguish themselves with innovative, effective and broad-reaching programs and activities that positively impact America and the world.

AO is being recognized in The Power to Enrich Lives and The Power to Innovate categories. Special thanks goes to our volunteer dentists, social service agency cohorts, and to program partner, Henry Schein Cares, and to Team Schein.

AO will be recognized at the Power of A awards reception in Washington, D.C. in October.
Thanks to donations from the Alpha Omega Foundation-United States (several from the DC Chapter), the Israeli dental mission FINALLY started operating in a refugee camp near Belgrad, Serbia. There are 600 refugees in the camp. Checkups started August 11 and 100 patients were checked. Most were in need of treatment, which was planned to start as early as Monday, August 14, after most of the equipment (that traveled to Serbia via diplomatic mail) was released from the Israeli embassy. Vladi Dyvoris, an Israeli AO member, lead this campaign.

Best regards,

Ellen
